Open Day for our future contributors

The Open Day has already become a traditional event for contributors and beneficiaries of the Unified Accumulative Pension Fund. However, due to the coronavirus infection (Covid-19) pandemic, it is now impossible to meet with contributors in person at the Fund's branch offices, so the UAPF staff moved it to the virtual space for the second time this year.

Anyone could attend an online event using the online platform and join the Open Day without leaving their home.

This time the meeting was held in the format of a master class, because the main audience was students of colleges and universities. The theme of the event was the Pension System of the Republic of Kazakhstan. Pension Planning.

The young target audience was not chosen by chance, since most of the students will soon become contributors to the UAPF, and already at this stage it is necessary to carry out outreach work. This is, first of all, the awareness of the younger generation about the work of the Fund, the services offered, as well as the importance of transferring pension contributions to their individual pension saving account, having become a member of the accumulative pension system of the Republic of Kazakhstan. After all, it is important for young people to develop a sense of civic, moral responsibility for their future already and providing themselves with a decent retirement

The event was held throughout the country with high attendance, each of the participants was satisfied and pleased with the electronic format of the Open Day, and everyone noted that the Fund's employees in an accessible form were able to provide information on the questions asked about the pension system of our country.
