Open Day at UAPF JSC

As part of the informational and explanatory work among the population, on June 11, 2024, "UAPF" JSC will hold an "Open Day" on the topic: "Digital UAPF. Innovations in the electronic services of the Fund."

As of today, more than 90% of services provided by UAPF depositors are obtained through various electronic services. Despite the fact that the most in-demand services are opening accounts and carrying out various types of payments, there has been an increasing demand for other electronic services of the Fund recently. These include making changes or additions to details, viewing various types of statements and receiving them, making pension forecasts using the pension calculator, and others.

During the event, which will be held in the format of an online meeting, UAPF specialists will inform participants about these and other electronic services, including those introduced in 2024, and what is required to access them.

All interested parties are invited to the online meeting, as well as representatives of the media. We hope it will be beneficial for everyone - both depositors and journalists involved in covering the innovations related to Kazakhstan's accumulative pension system.
